PARENTS WORKSHOP: Person-Centered Planning Toolkit

Charting the LifeCourse

presented by Jane St John

Core Belief: All people have the right to live, love, work, play and pursue their life aspirations just as others do in their community.

For individuals and families of all abilities at any age and any stage of life

Learn how to advocate for a good life:

work, education, friends, fun, a home of your own

- ★ Think about what schools & agencies need to know to develop better support plans, transition plans, learning goals & IEPs
- ★ Explore the possibilities for your son or daughter's adult life
- ★ Identify the support you need to help your son or daughter live a good life
- ★ Learn to use person-centred planning tools to have more effective meetings with staff at school and agencies

About our presenter: Jane St John supports families in the state of Missouri, to plan for quality adult lives for their sons and daughters with a developmental disability. She helped develop the LifeCourse planning tools to assist families to advocate with schools and service providers, and for sufficient funding.

Jane's adult son, Ben, has a developmental disability and special health care needs. She is a strong supporter of community inclusion and has worked closely in her community to promote inclusive practices.
